Happy New Year, PMC!

As we step into 2025, let's celebrate the beauty of our community and reflect on a magical holiday season.

The Holiday Craft Fair showcased incredible talent, Breakfast with Santa brought joy to many, and our Village sparkled with festive spirit. Thank you to everyone who participated and spread the holiday cheer that makes PMC so special.

As we settle into winter, it's essential to focus on preparedness. Make sure driveways are clear, cars are off the streets for snowplowing, emergency supplies are stocked, and plans are ready. Take a moment to check in on neighbors, especially before major storms. Supporting elderly residents, those with mobility challenges, or newcomers fosters community strength and resilience during winter weather.

Together, we can ensure everyone is safe and cared for during this season.

Winter is also a wonderful time to plan for spring gardens or enjoy cozy indoor projects. Let's embrace this season of rest and renewal, finding ways to connect with one another and nurture our sense of community.

With change comes opportunity, and our community is navigating a transition with the resignation of General Manager, Todd Greisen. I want to thank Todd for his contributions. Change can stir mixed emotions, and in moments like this, I'm reminded of Mattie Stepanek's words: “Unity is strength... when there is teamwork and collaboration, wonderful things can be achieved.”

By working together, we can embrace this new chapter with optimism and determination. Here's to a year of progress, unity, and growth for PMC!

In gratitude,

Diane Martell

UPDATE

Happy New Year to all.

To say it's been an eventful month would be an understatement.

When I read social media posts and discuss PMC with fellow members, there is high emotion, with angry attacks on employees and fellow members. I see anger as the tip of the emotional iceberg. Anger signifies fear underneath. Fear of financial impact and/or fear of the unknown seems to drive most comments. Please think twice before you post comments when feeling anger, especially those pointed at our employees, and ask yourself, what is my fear under this anger? Is it real or imaginary? Do I need to attack someone's character to express my opinion? Defamatory and derogatory statements against employees can be perceived as making this a hostile work environment and I need everyone's help. In exchange, to the best of my ability, I will run open board meetings and provide information with as much transparency as possible, including decisions that have a financial impact on our association.

The most impactful event this month was the resignation of our General Manager, Todd Greisen. The public posting of his resignation letter was his decision. As his letter mentioned, the chair had said he "may or may not have his agreement renewed in May" and it is a true statement. However, it was said during a private, personnel/-related discussion and I am not at liberty to provide my reasons behind it.

Several management and board decisions have caused significant issues for PMC POA and they have been discussed over many months of Open Board Meetings. However, no decision was made with criminal intent or action, and no one gained personally from those decisions or actions.

A comment I've seen repeated on social media: the decision to move to a new accounting system, not run parallel accounting systems and at the end of a fiscal year was made unilaterally by Todd and/or the chair. The past board was fully aware of and approved every decision throughout the process. Hindsight is 20/20 so I hope future boards can learn from those past missteps and we can move forward.

The Reserve Specialist has completed the Detailed Reserve Study, and the board will meet with the Specialist next month.

When I read the study, it was clear to me that past boards did not set aside enough in the reserves to revitalize both the Clubhouse and the Pavilion.

Inflation has been at an all-time high since COVID-19. Now, we are forced to contend with decisions.

A clubhouse employee with nearly 20 years commented, "The past general and maintenance managers were pressured to make repairs and maintain everything as cheaply as possible, regardless of what was right to do and it was always about the money". The original front Clubhouse structure was a portable sales office, and the rest was added over time. The Condor Cafe kitchen was not built to run as a full-service and catering kitchen but that's what the association members have come to expect. The administration area is severely overcrowded, the walls are paper thin causing personnel issues and there is no emergency exit. There are countless stories of the plumbing and electrical issues behind the walls and under the floors of both buildings.

UPDATE

The Pavilion is so cold it has two space heaters. During the December morning executive board meeting, the circuit breaker had tripped, my laptop wasn't charging and I thought my laptop had stopped working entirely. The tripped circuit breaker wasn't discovered until the afternoon.

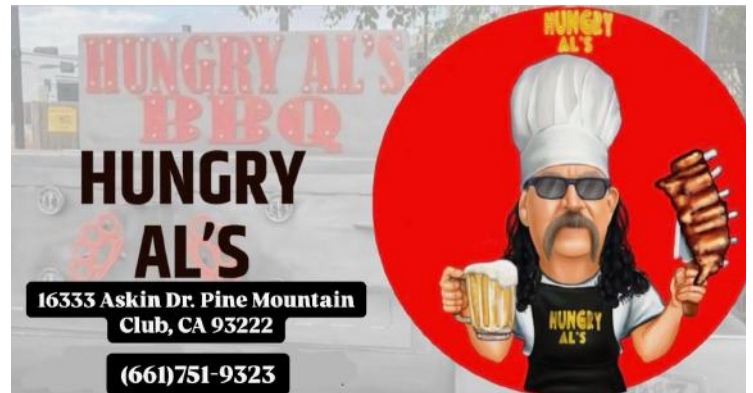

During the Reserve Study review, the board will create a team of directors to review the Clubhouse Revitalization and potential funding options. There will soon be a Town Hall to bring everyone up to date with where the revitalization started and where it is now.

Also in January, we'll start the search for a new general manager. Whether it will be a full-time employee or employed through an Association Management Company has not been decided. Both are options and the board created an executive subcommittee to oversee the search.

The street sweeper is hard at work and our maintenance team is ready for snowfall.

I wish you and your families a safe, happy and prosperous new year!

*Be safe,
Jennifer Emmett*

Friendly Reminder: Help Keep Our Wildlife Wild!

As a community, we all play a part in protecting our beautiful wildlife. According to Rule 7.03, feeding bears, mountain lions, bobcats, raccoons, deer, foxes, and coyotes is not allowed anywhere in Pine Mountain Club. This includes leaving food or edible materials outside that could attract animals.

Landscape Planning Inspired by Los Padres National Forest

By Diane Martell

Along with being a Director of Organizational Impact and Learning, Diane is a certified Master Gardener and designer with extensive experience owning her own landscape design company. She specializes in crafting beautiful, functional spaces that foster a deep connection to nature.

Winter is a time of quiet reflection—both for nature and for gardeners. When snow blankets PMC, it's the perfect season to cozy up indoors and plan your spring landscaping projects. Drawing inspiration from the incredible diversity of Los Padres National Forest, you can create a garden that celebrates beauty, balance, and functionality.

Our Los Padres National Forest is one of the most botanically diverse in the U.S., spans the Coast and Transverse Mountain Ranges. Its chaparral-dominated terrain is complemented by pinyon-juniper woodlands, coastal redwoods, oak woodlands, and even sub-alpine fellfields. The unique Mediterranean climate, with cool, wet winters and hot, dry summers, supports this incredible variety, while specialized plants thrive on nutrient-poor serpentine soils.

Much like the forest's layered ecosystems, you can design your garden using the "Thrillers, Spillers, and Fillers" approach.

Indian paintbrush (Castilleja sp.)

Snowy Manzanita

Thrillers provide height and drama, much like the forest's majestic trees. Consider bold plants like:

- California Rose (Rosa californica)
- Curl-Leaf Mountain Mahogany (Cercocarpus ledifolius)
- Flannelbush (Fremontodendron californicum)
- Manzanita (Arctostaphylos sp) [also stunning in the winter!]

Spillers soften the edges, mimicking the forest's cascading and riparian woodlands. Excellent choices are:

- California Goldenbanner (Thermopsis californica)
 - California Poppy (Eschscholzia californica)
 - Ceanothus ground cover varieties
 - Davidson's Phacelia (Phacelia davidsonii)
 - Eriogonum (Eriogonum, spp.)
 - Speckled Clarkia (Clarkia cylindrica)
 - Variable Linanthus (Leptosiphon parviflorus)

Landscape Planning, Continued

Fillers add lush texture and color, echoing the diversity of understory plants in Los Padres can bring depth to your design:

- Lupine (Lupinus, spp.)
- Thickleaf Yerba Santa (Eriodictyon crassifolium)
- Indian Paintbrush (Castilleja sp.)
- Golden Yarrow (Eriophyllum confertiflorum)
- Rabbitbrush (Ericameria nauseosa)
- Sage and Penstemon varieties

Grape-Soda Lupine (Lupinus excubitus)

Grinnell's Penstemon (Penstemon grinnellii)

Winter in PMC is the perfect time to plan your garden—assess your layout, choose plant pairings, and research what thrives in our unique climate. Use this downtime to sketch designs and be ready to dive in when the snow melts.

Happy planning!

Passing the Torch: Reflections from Frazier Mountain Internet's Former Owners

By Sarah Fulkerson

For nearly three decades, the Rosen's have been at the heart of it all, building and growing Frazier Mountain Internet into a vital lifeline for the mountain communities. Now, as they pass the torch to a new chapter, we caught up with Mr. Rosen to reflect on their incredible journey as key players of local connectivity. Here's what he had to share with us.

What inspired you to start (or acquire) Frazier Mountain Internet, and how has the business evolved under your leadership?

Back in 1995, I had been using the internet for a couple of years. In those days, dialup was pretty much the only way that the general public was using to connect to the Internet. There weren't any local phone numbers on the mountain to call, so I was calling either Bakersfield or San Francisco for internet access (as it happens, it was cheaper to call San Fran at about 15 cents/minute versus Bakersfield at roughly 30 cents/minute). I kept saying that someone ought to start a local internet service up here to mitigate these very significant expenses. And then one day it occurred to me that maybe I should be that someone. And that's when Barbara and I decided to start Frazier Mountain Internet. We went through a lot of evolutions through the years - first dialup at 14.4 and 28.8 kbps. Then, in 1997 we started a partnership with the cable company and offered a hybrid system using cable internet at 512 kbps for the downstream and our dialup for the upstream. Eventually in 2004 we started offering both DSL service in some areas and fixed wireless in others. As time marched on, we ended up doing all fixed wireless throughout the network.

What are you most proud of achieving during your time as owner?

That our business survived at all for 29 years was a pretty major accomplishment. But, more than anything, we enjoyed that we were able to provide a very reliable service with a generally good reputation to a large number of locals. We did what we could to give back to the community, both in terms of service quality and supporting various local organizations. We believe that combination is one of the primary reasons we were able to keep the business running for so long.

For a review of all Frazier Mountain Internet's contributions, Please Visit:

<https://www.frazmtn.com/fmisandthecommunity.htm>

What's next for you after this chapter?

Barbara and I will be staying in Pine Mountain Club indefinitely, as we enjoy the beauty of the area, the small town atmosphere, and the many great friends we have on The Hill. We'll be continuing doing our regular camping, as well as planning a bunch of more extended trips. We're mostly interested in exploring the Western U.S., although we expect at some point we'll be heading out east and probably into Canada as well. And, of course, we'll continue to play music whenever we can and probably some pickleball along the way.

Is there anything additional you'd like the community to know regarding the transition?

The community should know that we're working with the new owners to ensure a smooth transition and plan to be available to help them out whenever they need it. We have lots of reasons to want to see that Frazier Mountain Internet Service continues to provide a high quality service to the community. If for no other reason, we'll continue to be a customer ourselves!

With heartfelt gratitude, we want to thank the Rosen's for their incredible dedication and unwavering commitment to our mountain community. Their efforts have made a lasting impact, and we are truly fortunate to have had them keeping us connected through the years. As they embark on their new adventures, we wish them all the best! Next time you see The Foxtail Rangers playing, be sure to stop by and say "Hi".

Holiday Wrap-up

By Sarah Fulkerson

This holiday season was filled with joy, community spirit, and cherished traditions as our mountain community came together for three magical events: The Christmas Tree Lighting, the Holiday Craft Fair, and Breakfast with Santa.

The Christmas Tree Lighting was a truly breathtaking moment. Families gathered to enjoy free hot cocoa, cookies, and cheerful caroling, all while waiting for the grand lighting. At the stroke of 6 PM, every tree lit up simultaneously, casting a magical glow over the night and filling the air with awe and excitement.

At The Holiday Craft Fair, over 50 talented local vendors showcased an incredible selection of handmade crafts. From unique holiday decorations to one-of-a-kind gifts, there was something for everyone. Many attendees delighted in crossing names off their gift lists, leaving with beautiful, heartfelt treasures.

Finally, Breakfast with Santa brought pure holiday magic to life. The room overflowed with cheer as families enjoyed a delicious pancake breakfast and shared precious moments.

The highlight, of course, was the joy on children's faces as they met Santa, eagerly sharing their secret wish lists. It looks like Santa will have his work cut out for him this year! Richard Schwagerl added an enchanting touch, playing Christmas carols on the piano and setting the perfect holiday tone.

We were thrilled to see so many members of our community come together for these memorable events. Thank you for making this season so special, and we wish everyone in our mountain community a Happy and Healthy New Year!
